Socially transformative work is not a solo endeavor. Your responses to Questions 1a, 1b and 1c will help us understand how your organization's work fits within the broader field it is working to transform. In addition, your answers to these questions will help us understand what you see as systemic barriers in the broader field, as well as the relationships between these barriers and the outcomes they are producing.

Project Description[2500 characters limit - approx. 250 words]*

1a) Describe the vision for your organization's work, explaining the "big picture" and timeline that frame this vision. Whom does this vision serve? What role does the work described serve in contributing to more just, inclusive and equitable communities?

Character Limit: 2500

Project Goals & Anticipated Outcomes*

[1000 characters limit - approx. 100 words]

1b) With regard to the McCune Foundation funding timeframe (one year), what does your organization propose accomplishing? What will success look like?

Character Limit: 1000

Impact (making a difference within the broader field)*

[1000 characters limit - approx. 100 words]

1c) How will you identify and engage peers and allies that share your organization's vision as well as represent the communities you serve?

Character Limit: 1000

The McCune Foundation's core values support deep engagement with diverse New Mexico communities, both as recipients of services and as collaborators whose voices inform the kinds of services received and how these are provided, including the design, development and implementation of programs and approaches. Your response to Question 2 will help us understand how your organization's work engages with communities served.

Community Ownership*

[2000 characters limit - approx. 200 words]

2) How do the communities you serve directly inform the focus of what you propose to implement in the coming year? How does your organization respond to and support leadership within these communities?

Character Limit: 2000

The McCune Foundation values innovation and risk-taking that develop and support new approaches to the challenges faced by New Mexico communities. Your response to Question 3 will provide your organization's perspective on innovation, risk-taking and challenges.

Focus Area (problem addressed)*

[1500 characters limit - approx. 150 words]

3) How does the work uniquely challenge conventional approaches to create significant, long-term systemic change?

Character Limit: 1500

LEARNING AND EVALUATION

Actionable Learning*

[1500 characters limit - approx. 150 words]

4a) What are your organization's learning goals or questions for the coming year? How does your organization partner with the communities you serve in determining learning goals or questions? How does this learning process shape your work going forward?

Character Limit: 1500

Evidence of Impact*

[1500 characters limit - approx. 150 words]

4b) For the work proposed, what does evidence of impact look like? How will this evidence be collected and shared among participating communities and other partners? How will this inform decision making and/or course correction?
